

We love where we live, but issues like poverty, mental illness and social isolation are hurting our communities. By showing your local love, you can change that. You can make local issues #UNIGNORABLE.

About one in four young people aged nine to 19 in Canada live with a mental illness.

THERESA'S DECISION TO TAKE ACTION...

"When I first moved to my new community, I heard about the United Way-supported organization where I now work. It's dedicated to strengthening Indigenous youth and families. Seeing firsthand the work that it does, I feel connected. When someone gives, we give back, in small ways and big ways."

—Theresa, donor & volunteer

CHANGED ROSE'S LIFE

"During high school, my family struggled with poverty. Eventually we became homeless. I felt so much stress and anxiety, my hair began to fall out. I started attending a United Way-funded tutoring and mentoring program, and the support I had there made such a difference. Now, I'm going to school and working full time."

—Rose, program participant
